Larimar

THE Gemstone of the Caribbean

“Take home the color of the Caribbean Sea.”

Larimar is a recently discovered ocean-blue gemstone found in a remote mountain region in the Caribbean Basin. High on an isolated mountain top, miners use only picks and shovels to work the deposits of this unique Caribbean gem. Larimar was given its name by Miguel Mendez, a lapidary artisan who first worked on this gemstone. The name “Larimar” comes from his daughter’s name, Larissa, and the Spanish word, “mar,” meaning “ocean” (because of the beautiful range of colors of the Caribbean waters). The Gemological Institute of America has identified Larimar as a blue pectolite found nowhere else in the world.

Most of us accept the threat of dangerous hurricanes as a part of living in a tropical location. It could even be said that those who live in harm's way are just as brave as those who work in harm's way — the aviators and scientists who fly directly into hurricanes in order to study them. Wear this symbol of fortitude and daring with the original Hurricane and Hurricane Hunter Bracelet.™

IN THE EARLY 17TH CENTURY, SPAIN WAS THE MOST POWERFUL NATION IN EUROPE, FINANCED BY THE GOLD AND SILVER FROM "THE NEW WORLD."

FLEETS OF GALLEONS WOULD CARRY CONFISCATED WEALTH TO SPAIN. IN THE 1600's, HURRICANES SMASHED SPANISH GALLEONS ONTO REEFS, RIPPING GREAT HOLES INTO THEIR HULLS. THE GREAT TREASURES WERE SCATTERED ACROSS THE OCEAN FLOOR AND REMAINED HIDDEN UNTIL TODAY!

ARTICLES ARE CAST REPLICAS CONTAINING A PERCENTAGE OF ORIGINAL SILVER COINS SALVAGED FROM SPANISH GALLEON WRECK SITES. EACH COIN IS HAND BEZELED IN 14K GOLD BY NATIVE CARIBBEAN CRAFTSMEN.

Montesino Caribbean Bracelet Company has created the original Awareness Hook Bracelet™ as a gesture in symbolic tribute to health awareness and our nation's service personnel. Each piece is designed with a gemstone in the color significant to its cause, and wrapped with a 14k gold ribbon. Many groups have adopted ribbons as symbols of support or awareness, and as a result, many causes often share the same color.
